Charles Johnson Jr. Memorial Scholarship

Each year, 25 students will be selected to receive the Charles Johnson Jr. Memorial Scholarship, administered by the International Scholarship and Tuition Services (ISTS)

The New York City District Council of Carpenters offers a scholarship program (known as the Charles Johnson Jr. Memorial Scholarship) through the Welfare Fund for unmarried, dependent, natural, or adopted children of eligible members.

The scholarship program pays up to $3,500 for each year of a four-year academic program. The maximum amount of the award is $14,000 per student. This benefit is a scholarship program for unmarried, dependent, natural or legally adopted children, regardless of age who:

• Are entering college as a freshman without prior college credit;

• Are entering with prior college credit earned from high school (in an early admissions placement program or advanced while completing placement program) or;

• Are mid-year graduates who entered college prior to the academic year beginning in September, when a scholarship would first be payable, and who earned one-half year of college credit.

Please note: If you are a retiree, your qualifying children are eligible for this program if you met the scholarship eligibility requirements described above at the time of your retirement.*

How To Apply:

The application process occurs during the student's senior year of high school:

September:
You can request an application by visiting the ISTS website at https://aim.applyists.net/NYCDCC

December:
Your child must submit their online application by December 15th.

Applications received after the due date will NOT be accepted.
